

Title: Dry Eye

Artist: Antonio Yaghy, MD

Artist Description: Dry eye disease is a common condition with a recent rise in prevalence after millions of people worldwide were forced to stay at home and work remotely, resulting in an overall increase in screen time. In this digital painting, I tried to artistically depict dry eye by integrating desiccated twigs and branches of trees in winter on a human iris. I also used fiery colors in an attempt to illustrate the burning sensation patients with dry eye experience daily.
